Dear Graduates,

On September 6, 2011, we walked into Arts High School starting on a path that would forever change our lives. We walked in these hallways just a little scared and a lot naive to the challenges we would face nor did we have any idea of how brilliant we would all become. In those swift four years, we have become family. We worked hard, we played harder, we fought, we tried and failed and tried again, and we saw unbelievable successes.

I urge you to revel in this time for it will never come again. Your time is limited, so don't waste it living someone else's life. Don't let the noise of others' opinions drown out your own inner voice, and most importantly, have the courage to follow your heart and intuition. You must have some kind of vision for your life, even if you don't know the plan. You have to have a direction in which you choose to go. You want to be in the driver's seat of your own life, because if you're not, life will drive you. Take action. Every story you've ever connected with, every leader you've ever admired, every little thing that you've ever accomplished is the result of taking action. You have a choice. You can either be a passive victim of circumstance or you can be the active hero of your own life.

Arts High School has helped to set you on a path for success, and if you carry with you those three little words we spoke about so often, you will do just fine. Dignity, Discipline and Determination - let those words become a part of your make-up - a part of your character - and you will not be stopped.

You are special to me, for you are the first class to have that "FAVORITE PRINCIPAL" for all four years! This has been a remarkable journey, and I am incredibly proud of each and every one of you, but more than that, I am forever blessed to have been a part of your growth. Make us proud as you have now joined the ranks of the incredible Arts High School Alumni.

#Jaguarsforlife

Lynn Irby Jackson

It is with great pride that I salute the members of the graduating class of 2015.

As the years went marching on, you've demonstrated in so many ways, that you were second to none, not unlike teenagers in any other part of the globe, as you conformed to rules and codes of behavior. Steadfast to the pillar of Discipline, you've matured into responsible, well-mannered young men and women eager to take your place in this global community.

You've shown firmness of purpose meeting and or exceeding the high standards before you, resolute to continue on your journey to greatness. In so doing you've held steadfast to the pillar of Determination.

As you say farewell for now, move forward with that continued sense of pride in yourself, that quality of being worthy of honor and respect. For that you will forever hold steadfast to the pillar of Dignity.

Congratulations!

“O Arts High, we sing to you – to the green and gray, we’re true...”

To the Class of 2015:

Words are simply inadequate to express the pride and joy you all have not only brought to Arts High, but to we, your Senior Class advisors. While there may have been minor hiccups here and there, this year has produced notable creative expressions and academic achievements that will forever linger in the annals of AHS.

As you leave these hollowed corridors, it is our hope that you hold on to the memories that you have created over the last four years of being in this building. We also hope that you are looking forward to creating new memories of happiness as you journey into and achieve in the halls of academe, military training and service, and/or career paths designed specifically for you. As President Franklin Roosevelt once stated, “Happiness lies in the joy of achievement and the thrill of creative effort.”

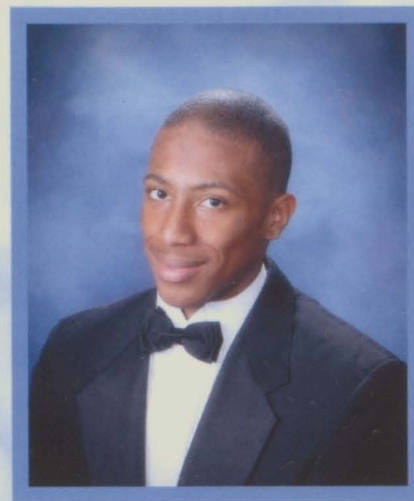

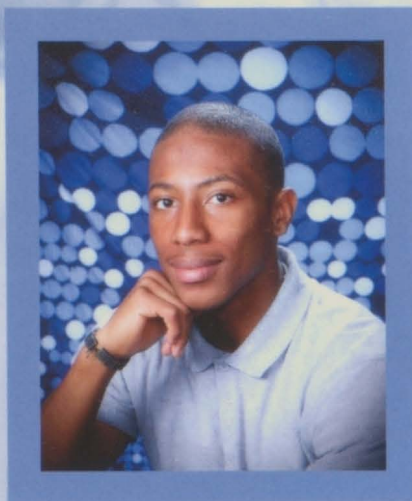

While you are looking forward to the journey, remember that it will not be easy, but you have to persevere in order to make a great name for yourself. Remember, in life, you will have successes and challenges. For the areas that may produce challenges, it is up to you to make the best of the negatives and turn them into positives, remembering that no matter how hard you have to work, hard work and tenacity produce transcendence to unknown heights!

It is our hope and prayer that we will one day see your names in great lights, as you not only represent your families, the great City of Newark, and the great State of New Jersey, but you also represent the nation’s first school of Performing and Visual Arts, its faculty, staff, current students, and innumerable alumni. JAGUAR PRIDE!

Wishing you all the best,
Cumberbatch and Carney

VALEDICTORIAN:

Hassan Haywood

Dear Class of 2015

This June 22nd we will all be departing from each other. The experiences we have had, the bonds we have made, and all the things we have been through together will be missed. Similar to our younger selves who yearned to attend high school, many of us can't wait to go to college. Upon our arrival, though, we may become homesick. Homesick in the sense that Arts High is our home. When you're away from home for too long you'll want to go back, longing for past experiences with old friends and familiar faces. In some way, shape, or form we will all miss Arts High. For some of us the yearning won't strike immediately but when it does we will be hit hard, weakened by our emotions, and wishing we had just a little more time in that familiar space. This feeling might make the departure from our home, Arts High School, even harder, but we will get through it together. I want to thank you all for choosing to go to Arts High. You've made the experiences we've shared unforgettable. It was you, my classmates, who made the pep rallies enjoyable or the AHS parties as good as they were. You all helped to bring me out of my shell and made my high school career one where I could be academically competitive but still imperfectly human. It was you guys who made me want to show up when my morale was low. Quite simply, you all brought joy and laughter into my life, helping me as through many of life's challenges faced throughout these years.

Teachers and students alike allowed me to ponder life, fun trends, master homework, and even indulge in a little gossip. It'll be my Arts High family that will inspire me as I advance toward college. I hope many of you can say the same for me; I will always be here for you.

In closing, I want to wish the class of 2015 farewell. My advice to you is to seek new adventures. Don't just dream about your success, go and work for it. Don't fear failure, for it is only success in progress. Never forget about those you love and those who love you -- they will always be there for you in body and spirit. Use them as motivation through hard times, and keep them in your memories as you amass great achievements.

I guess this is goodbye. Four years have flown past us but it's destined that we leave each other to further our lives. "So long farewell, auf wiedersehen, adieu", until we meet again "I leave, and heave a sigh and say goodbye".

I'll remember you all always.

Yours lovingly,
Hassan Haywood

SALUTATORIAN:

Shannon Thomas

Dear Arts High Classmates,

High school has been a journey we will not forget. Over the last four years, we have gained friends who became family, yet may be about to embark on a path entirely different from our own.

This really is it.

Our last days as students within the safe harbor known as Arts High School are over. A change is going to come. With perseverance, I assure you it will be a change for the better. High school, in retrospect, will continue to allow us to sustain great memories as we advance toward our dreams. Our years together have shown us how we might attempt to change the world as students and thinkers. Now, however, our graduation transitions us into adulthood, where we must not hold onto the past like timid children. The time has come to surpass irresponsible and childish habits because we are beginning an entirely new chapter of our lives. There are experiences ahead that will enhance our successes, prosperity, and knowledge. Wherever you may find yourself on this untraveled road and through whatever challenges you will endure, make every attempt to do the best you can.

And with this, best of luck to everyone and congratulations to the Class of 2015.

Your Salutatorian,
Shannon Thomas

To the green and grey we're true.
Your portals of art and song,

Your halls and your classes hold the memories of great deeds.
As the years go marching on,
one by one we'll soon be gone,
though your hearts will be with you,
